12th edition of the International Conference
Accounting and Management Information Systems (AMIS 2017)
to be held at the
Bucharest University of Economic Studies, on June 7-8, 2017

Papers are invited in the broad areas of financial accounting, managerial accounting, accounting education, auditing, financial analysis, management information systems, and business law. Authors are invited to submit theoretical and empirical contributions. All submissions will be double-blind refereed by an international scientific panel.

Conference faculty will also include but are not limited to Katherine Schipper (IAAER President and Duke University), Donna Street (IAAER Director of Research and Educational Activities and University of Dayton) and Alfred Wagenhofer (IAAER Vice-President Research and University of Graz), Robert Faff (University of Queensland), Andrei Filip (ESSEC Paris), Allan Hodgson (University of Queensland) and Sebastian Hoffmann (University of Edinburgh). Similar to prior years, the AMIS organizers will attract to Bucharest a significant number of other reputed international academics, who will be available to conference delegates for live feedback and interaction during the conference.

Submission details

In order to be considered for the conference, intending authors are invited to only submit full papers in English by 19 March 2017 via the online submission system of the Conference. Abstracts will not be considered. The outcome of the review process will be communicated to authors by 30 April 2017. Conference participants should register for the conference before 14 May 2017. Early registrations are possible and encouraged. Further information will be available on www.amis.ase.ro as soon as possible.

Conference proceedings

Electronic conference proceedings, containing only the papers presented during the conference, will be submitted to ISI Thomson for inclusion in the Conference Proceedings Citation Index after the conference. Proceedings of prior editions have been accepted for inclusion. Exclusion of presented papers from the prepared conference proceedings is possible, upon author request.

Publication outlet

An option for fast-track review will be given to intending authors at the Journal of Accounting and Management Information Systems (JAMIS). JAMIS is covered and indexed in prestigious international databases and catalogues such as EBSCO and ProQuest, and in various national and university rankings (in France, Poland or Italy). For details regarding the Journal please see www.revistacig.ase.ro.

Special event associated with AMIS 2017

IAAER ACCA Central and Eastern European Emerging Accounting Scholars Research Workshop

The International Association for Accounting Education and Research (IAAER) and the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) will hold their Central and Eastern European Emerging Accounting Scholars Research Workshop in Bucharest, Romania on 5-6 June 2017. The objectives of the workshop are to provide emerging scholars from Central and Eastern Europe (CEE) with feedback on their research and to help develop their research skills. Representatives of IAAER will select the research projects to be presented during the workshop and will attend the workshop to provide comprehensive feedback and guidance to the participants. Preference will be given to doctoral students and early career researchers. However, the workshop is open to all emerging accounting scholars affiliated with higher education institutions in CEE countries who are committed to improving their research skills capacity. For further information, please email Professor Donna Street at dstreet1@udayton.edu.

For further queries please visit www.amis.ase.ro regularly and do not hesitate to contact the conference organizers at amis2017@cig.ase.ro.

We are looking forward to meeting you in Bucharest in June 2017!
